

9 Best Study Spots Near The University of Georgia (Updated for 2026)

Do you have a big test coming up and need a quiet place to study? Do you have a group project due and need somewhere you and your group members can easily collaborate? Luckily, there are many places on-campus and off-campus that will fulfill your studying needs.

Read Next: The Best of Athens, GA

At Rambler, residents get to enjoy a study mezzanine featuring both private conference rooms and an open study area overlooking the Daydreamer coffee shop and lounge. Additional study rooms are also available throughout the building if you don't want to be on the first floor!

two students studying on study floor at Rambler Athens
Rambler's study mezzanine offers six private rooms and two computers.

However, we understand that sometimes you just want a change of scenery. Whether you like a little background noise or total silence, prefer to walk from class or don't mind a drive, there is sure to be a spot for you! In this article, we share the ten best study spots near UGA.

9 Best Study Spots Near UGA

1. Miller Learning Center (MLC)

Distance from Rambler: 13-minute walk

Address: 48 Baxter St, Athens, GA 30602

The Miller Learning Center in Athens

Photo Courtesy of UGA Libraries

The MLC consists of four floors of study space expanding throughout the North and South wings of each floor. It is open 24 hours on weekdays and closes around midnight on weekends. The MLC is a great place to hunker down to study for exams or complete projects. Plus, it has a Jittery Joe's coffee on the second floor and the snacks, food and espresso drinks are great for fueling your study session.

2. Main Library

Distance from Rambler: 13-minute walk

Address: 320 S Jackson St, Athens, GA 30602

outside the main library at UGA in Athens

Photo Courtesy of Dreamstime

The Main Library is located on campus and consists of nine floors full of different types of study rooms and individual cubicles. If you ever get hungry or want to take a study break, there is an Einstein Bros Bagels on the first floor where you can buy a bagel or a snack. There is a spacious room on the fourth floor which is referred to as the “collab” room, where you can go if you need to work with others.

3. Science Learning Center (SLC)

Distance from Rambler: 24-minute walk or a 7-minute bus ride from the UGA Arch

Address: 130 Carlton St, Athens, GA 30602

students leaving the SLC at UGA

Photo Courtesy of The UGA Science Learning Center

The SLC has tables on the bottom floor and is usually very quiet to ensure a productive study session. If you are in need of a break, there is an Einstein Bros Bagels located on the ground floor that serves coffee, bagels, snacks and smoothies. The SLC is made up of three floors with 13 group meeting rooms and 300 seats in common areas for student study.

4. Tate Student Center

Distance from Rambler: 14-minute walk

Address: 45 Baxter St, Athens, GA 30602

the inside of Tate Student Center in Athens

Photo Courtesy of Cooper Carry

Tate Student Center has five floors of seating where students can sit and study. The fourth floor is the quietest floor with built-in desks and tables, and it's my personal favorite floor in Tate to get work done. If you like background noise, floor three is the place for you. On floor three, you'll find the Bulldog Cafe as well as restaurants including Chick-fil-A, Panda Express, Niche Pizza, Starbucks and Barberitos.

5. Jittery Joe's

Distance from Rambler: 9-minute walk

Address: 297 E Broad St, Athens, GA 30601

Jittery Joe's coffee shop in Athens

Photo Courtesy of Jittery Joe's Coffee

In addition to the location in the Miller Learning Center, Jittery Joe's has a location downtown and is a favorite spot of students who like to study off-campus. They offer both outdoor seating and indoor seating to ensure a good amount of study spots and meeting places for group collaboration.

Read Next: 5 Best Coffee Shops Near UGA Campus

6. Terry College of Business

Distance from Rambler: 9-minute walk

Address: 600 S Lumpkin St, Athens, GA 30605

students walking up to Terry College of Business in Athens

Terry College of Business has multiple buildings, in which you will find many study rooms. In the main building, Amos Hall, there is a large study area on the second floor located right next to The Rothenberger Cafe. It is a common place to sit and study after grabbing a coffee, wrap, sandwich or salad from the cafe. There is also a common study area on the first floor located beneath the cafe area on the second floor. If you don't want a big group study space, there are chairs and tables located throughout all of Terry to ensure you can get your studying in!

7. Law Library

Distance from Rambler: 13-minute walk

Address: 225 Herty Dr, Athens, GA 30602

inside the law library at UGA

Photo Courtesy of The UGA School of Law

The Law Library has floor-to-ceiling windows that let in lots of natural light, which makes it one of the best study spots on UGA campus. The main floor is known as more of a collaborative space, as it is an open space with lots of tables and chairs. If you need to work with a group, the main floor is the place to be. There are also quiet areas throughout the library if you're looking for silence. If you are in need of a study break, head over to the Jittery Joe's located in the library to grab a quick snack or coffee. The Law Library is open 24-hours for UGA students with just a swipe of their UGA one-card!

8. Science Library

Distance from Rambler: 20-minute walk or 11-minute bus ride from the UGA Arch

Address: 210 D. W. Brooks Drive, Athens, GA 30602

inside The Science Library at UGA

Photo Courtesy of All State Electrical

The Science Library has four floors, three of which are study spaces for UGA students. You enter on the second floor which consists of a bean bag study area, high performance computers, free scanners and a WEPA printer. The third floor has a large student study area with tables, and curved couches on the left and right sides. If you are in need of a quiet room, the fourth floor has study cells with closed doors and the "think tank", known for its quietness.

There is also a Jittery Joe's located on the second floor (the entrance floor) of the Science Library.

9. Myers Quad

Distance from Rambler: 19-minute walk or a 6-minute bus ride from the UGA Arch

Address: 305 Cedar St, Athens, GA 30609

Myers Quad in Athens

Photo Courtesy of Flickr

Myers Quad is a big, grassy field in the middle of a few on-campus dorms. It is a beautiful outdoor space where you can sit all day in the fresh air and get work done. It is a popular place for UGA students to sit and study, meet with people or play frisbee!

We hope you enjoy this list of some of the best study spots near UGA. If you have any other questions, contact the Rambler team, who is happy to help!